Former Minister of Education, Obiageli Ezekwesili, has announced her appointment as an Advisor to Club de Madrid, an international forum comprising democratic former Presidents and Prime Ministers.

Ezekwesili disclosed the development via a post on her X handle on Tuesday, noting that she had accepted the invitation to join the advisory group of the organisation.

Describing Club de Madrid as “the world’s largest forum of democratic former Presidents and Prime Ministers,” Ezekwesili said the forum aims to use its members’ leadership experience and global networks to promote inclusive democratic practices and improve global well-being.

In her post, Ezekwesili stated: “I accepted the invitation to become an Advisor to @ClubdeMadrid – Club de Madrid, ‘the world’s largest forum of democratic former Presidents and Prime Ministers, who leverage their individual and collective leadership experience and global reach to strengthen inclusive democratic practice and improve the well-being of people around the world.’”

She added that the evolving global context requires more proactive leadership and collaboration to address widespread challenges.
